RISE Leader

Prerequisites:

Previous experience in a camp leadership role - and more specifically, experience as a cabin leader and/or within the camp program team is preferred. Experience with outtripping is also preferred. Standard First Aid / CPR C is an asset.

Overview:

Give positive spiritual and practical leadership to the RISE participants providing structure and support for success and personal holistic growth. RISE leaders will work closely with the Team Lead in the development of the curriculum and execution of the schedule.

Expectations:

1. Attend all YDLP training before program commencement.
2. To be an effective and supportive member of the YDLP team
3. Work closely with the program team cabin leaders as participants learn from shadowing these roles.
4. Responsible for leading and supervising RISE participants in all aspects of the program.
5. Responsible for the creation, development and maintenance of a healthy community among participants.
 - a. Helping the individual to grow holistically through feedback and 1-on-1's
 - b. Working with the camp pastoral staff for any mental and spiritual health issues
6. Planning and preparing sessions concerning leadership, biblical teaching, and other topics for the program.

A successful RISE staff member will effectively communicate with their team leader about what is going on within the RISE community and the staff team. RISE staff need to be able to lead, teach others, and resolve conflict. They will be personable, able to give direction, and able to both lead and work in a team. An attitude and a heart submitted to the Spirit of God is essential to being effective in this role.

In addition to the above expectations, the successful candidate will contribute positively to an environment where we seek to encourage, build up and humbly challenge one another to continually grow. As a leader, they will demonstrate discernment and maturity helping to perpetuate safety, efficiency and fun as we strive to create a place for campers as well as staff from many different walks of life to be able to open up and experience freedom in a life with Christ. All staff are required to signed IAWAH's Statement of Faith, Lifestyle Agreement and Commitment to Team.
